The image shows the Tulum Airport terminal building, a large structure with a prominent pyramid-shaped roof. The roof is covered in solar panels. The main facade is white and features the text "AEROPUERTO INTERNACIONAL FELIPE CARRILLO PUERTO" in blue capital letters. In the foreground, a bronze statue of Felipe Carrillo Puerto stands on a grey pedestal, flanked by two smaller figures. The sky is bright blue with scattered white clouds. The foreground consists of a paved walkway and green landscaping.
